Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 28 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Brightening up on Sunday. Warm with some sunshine on Monday.

Today:
A breezy and generally cloudy day, with patchy light rain in western parts. Remaining largely dry elsewhere although the odd spot of rain cannot be ruled out, with bright or even sunny spells developing later in the afternoon. Rather mild. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Tonight:
A dry evening and night, with variable amounts of cloud but some prolonged clear spells at times. Remaining breezy, keeping temperatures on the mild side. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Monday:
Wind gradually easing through the day. A fine and dry day otherwise, warm with plenty of afternoon sunshine. A fine and clear evening. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Dry, sunny and very warm on Tuesday, with light winds. Wednesday, bright start, rather warm but turning cloudier and cooler from the north. Chilly start Thursday, dry with sunny spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.